Simon J. Storer Clouston

"[...]and when at last he reached the wall, he peered over it very carefully before he mounted and dropped on the other side. "Well," he murmured, "I'm here, by God, at last!" He was standing now in a road on the outskirts of the town. On the one hand it led into a dim expanse of darkened country; on the other the lights of the town twinkled. Across the road, a few villas stood back amidst trees, with gates opening on to a footpath, the outlying houses of the town; and the first lamp-post stood a little way down this path. The man crossed the road and turned townwards, walking slowly and apparently at his ease. What seemed to interest him now was not his own need for privacy but the [...]"
