These short biographies in the Great Women in Aviation Series tell the stories of notable women pilots whose passion for flight inspires young and old alike to take to the skies. This monograph is not meant to be a comprehensive history of Dr. Sally Ride's life, but it discusses her involvement in aviation, and the positive message she conveys. The main purpose of this biography is to inspire youth to follow their dreams of flight. This will make an excellent source for a book report or other paper.

In 1978, Dr. Sally Ride was one of six women selected in an American team of 15 pilots, and 20 mission specialists for the upcoming shuttle and space station programs. The other women were Rhea Seddon, Kathryn Sullivan, Anna Fisher, Shannon Lucid and Judith Resnick. In 1979, NASA commissioned a huge mural showing a group of astronauts in the clouds headed by frequent space traveler John Young. Among them was a woman. In the original artist's sketch, made in the mid-seventies she was not in the picture. Attitudes were beginning to change.
